

Virginia women should be allowed to escape a destructive marriage.

Patricia Phillips is fighting for extreme new restrictions on divorce.

State Senate candidate Patricia Phillips is at the forefront of an extremist movement to impose severe new restrictions on divorce in Virginia. She supports a new law to require both husband and wife to agree to end their marriage before a Virginia court can grant a divorce.

(Washington Post, 12/18/05)

- ✘ Preventing someone from divorcing a spouse who has been convicted of a violent felony
- ✘ Preventing someone from divorcing a spouse whose compulsive gambling is destroying the family's life savings
- ✘ Preventing someone from divorcing a spouse with a severe drug addiction that could endanger the family's children

Patricia Phillips is too extreme for Northern Virginia.

We need a Senator who will focus on the real issues of development, traffic, and education.

The Democratic Party of Virginia
1710 East Franklin Street
Richmond, VA 23223

NONPROFIT ORG.
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
MERRIFIELD, VA
PERMIT NO. 963

Help protect Virginia women trapped in destructive marriages.